Assignment # 3

Date: 2nd May 2026

Question 1:

As an entrepreneur launching a new business, explain how you would market your product by developing a practical marketing plan. In your answer, discuss:

- Why marketing is critical for a startup (especially in early stages)
- Key elements of a simple marketing plan suitable for a new venture
- How you would design your product (features, branding, value proposition) to attract customers
- How you would decide the price of your product considering limited resources and competition

Note: Support your answer with a startup-based example.

Question 2:

You are an entrepreneur starting a new venture (e.g., food business, online store, or tech product). Develop a basic marketing strategy for your startup by addressing:

- Who your target customers are and why
- Your product strategy (what makes your product unique or valuable)
- Your pricing strategy and reasoning (e.g., low price to enter market or premium pricing)
- How you will promote your product with a limited budget

Note: Use suitable example and justify your decisions as a startup founder.
