Assignment # 4

Date: 2nd May 2026

Question 1:

As an entrepreneur launching a new product, explain how you will deliver your product to customers and promote it effectively. In your answer, discuss:

- Your chosen distribution channel (e.g., online, retail, direct selling) and why it suits your startup
- The role of distribution in reaching target customers efficiently
- Your promotion strategy (advertising, social media, word-of-mouth, etc.)
- How you will balance low cost and maximum reach as a new venture

Note: Support your answer with a practical startup example.

Question 2:

You are starting a small business (e.g., clothing brand, food delivery, or digital service). Develop a complete plan for distribution and promotion by addressing:

- How your product will reach customers (distribution method)
- Whether you will sell directly or through intermediaries and why
- The promotional tools you will use (e.g., social media marketing, discounts, influencer marketing)
- How personal selling or direct interaction with customers will help your business grow

Note: Use a suitable example and justify your decisions as an entrepreneur.
